Protocol for Assessing Community Excellence in Environmental Health

Unity. Cooperation. Community.

You and your family's environment is not just the plants and trees. It's where you work; it's where you play. It's the community where you live...

And it is very important to your health.

This is an invitation to a meeting to discuss environmental health in your neighborhood. This is a meaningful discussion that can't happen without YOU.

Your voice does matter. Your opinions count. This is a chance to help by sharing your vision of a positive future for your community.

We hope you come.

Objectives of PACE:

- Evaluate environmental health conditions
- Target populations at risk
- Set priorities
- Support health equity and social justice
